Hello,

We hope you're staying safe and well under lockdown!

Though the future of performances, festivals and gatherings is still uncertain at the moment its amazing to see the dance community rally together to provide support and resoruces for artists and makers through this difficult time.

As of tomorrow, Interim Creative Producer Alex Anslow will be furloughed which means our artistic capacity will be significantly reduced. Despite this we'd love to know about any projects and performances you are creating at home so we can try and help where we can. We look forward to operating as a full team once again later on this summer!

Consultation sessions with Lissie Connor

Dance producer Lissie Connor is pleased to announce that she has received funding to continue to support regional creative practitioners during the Covid- 19 pandemic. As part of this she will be offering artists a free consultancy session throughout June to discuss anything from a new project idea, rechanneling work, personal development or just a friendly chat!
